T. B. Costello, Esq.,

8 St. Patrick Street, Toronto.

Dear Mr. Costello:

I have seen Mr. Loudon about the matter of the indebtedness of the Glee Club. Mr. Loudon informs me that the Students' Council knew nothing about the indebtedness and that you proceeded without consultation in the matter. They have no money at present and do not know how they are able now to meet this indebtedness. I should advise you, however, to see Mr. Loudon himself. I do not know that I can do anything further in the matter at present.

Yours sincerely,

President.
